
CONTENTS

Foreword	vii
Carola Suárez-Orozco
Introduction: Hearing the Voices of Success	1

PART ONE

Meeting on the Coasts

The New York and California Students	13
--------------------------------------	----

PART TWO

The Portraits

Omar / A Network of Relationships, Carefully Chosen	33
“There are some people, they listen, but they don’t know what you’re talking about. And there’s other people you talk to, they’ll really listen.”
Diana / Thriving Through Resistance	45
“I wasn’t going to let them tell me what I was capable of.”
Ricky / The Power of Parents	57
“My parents had a very hard life when they were small, and they’re always saying how hard it was, how hard it is in the fields, and that they expect me to go to college and get a good job.”

Karla / Expanding Social Networks over Time	65
“I got friends everywhere in the school, plus the teachers and all that.”
Ibrahim / The Sacrifices of Becoming American	79
“My parents have already told me . . . I’m losing my roots.”
Eduardo / Turning to Teachers as a Sounding Board	91
“[With some teachers] we just have fun, talk, laugh, and it makes me forget about stuff from home, like problems and stuff like that. And then others just want to talk about the problems and try to help me find solutions to those.”
Juanita / Putting in Extra Time to Succeed	101
“I passed all the Regents. In June, I’m going to take the chemistry one and the Spanish one so I can get an advanced diploma.”
Marisol / At a Crossroads	111
“Going to college—I don’t know. Before, I wanted to. Now, like, I don’t know. I just kind of gave up on myself.”

PART THREE

Living Up to the Promise

Recommendations for Classroom and School Practice	123
A Culture of Promise?	147
Interviewer’s Note	153
Notes	157
Acknowledgments	171
About the Author	175
Index	177